1 GYEONGBOKGUNG PALACE 경복궁

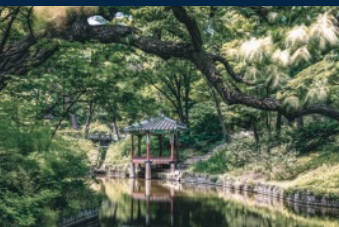

The first royal palace built in the Joseon Dynasty is where the 500-year history of Joseon began. The largest of the five grand palaces remaining in Seoul, Gyeongbokgung Palace showcases Joseon's royal culture, palace life, and architecture through Geunjeongjeon, Gyeonghoeru Pavilion, and other structures. The National Palace Museum and National Folk Museum of Korea are nearby to learn more about royal culture and historical living conditions.

2 DEOKSUGUNG PALACE 덕수궁

This Joseon Dynasty palace became the historical venue for the establishment of the Great Korean Empire. It is the only palace in Seoul that has a modern building, a Western-style garden, and a fountain. The Palace Royal Guard Changing Ceremony held every day at the main gate is a must-see attraction. The stonewall walkway that runs along Deoksugung Palace has been selected as one of the 100 Most Beautiful Roads in Korea, giving it a different feeling throughout each of the four seasons.

3 CHANGDEOKGUNG PALACE 창덕궁

This UNESCO World Heritage site is the best-preserved palace of the Joseon Dynasty. Built in 1405, Changdeokgung Palace boasts picturesque scenery as the palace where the kings of the Joseon Dynasty spent the most time. Since Rear Garden of Changdeokgung is available only to select visitors, a separate fee must be paid, aside from the fee for the palace tour. Visiting hours and the number of people allowed in at a time are also limited, so check the website for information on the Rear Garden tour.

4 CHANGGYEONGGUNG PALACE 창경궁

This palace was built by King Seongjong, the ninth king of the Joseon Dynasty, for Queen Jeonghui, the wife of King Sejo, Queen Ansun, the wife of King Yejong, and Queen Sohye, the wife of King Deokjong. Connected to Changdeokgung Palace, it formed a single palace called Donggung, and served to make up for shortage of residential space in Changdeokgung. The outstanding architectural beauty of the time is confirmed through Honghwamun, the main gate of Changgyeonggung. Korea's first Western-style greenhouse, completed in 1909, can also be seen here.

SEOUL PALACE TOUR

5 GYEONGHUIGUNG PALACE 경희궁

This is the smallest of the five major palaces in Seoul (Gyeongbokgung, Changdeokgung, Deoksugung, Changgyeonggung, and Gyeonghuiigung). The palace was built for the purpose of moving the king away from the main palace. There were many palaces in Gyeonghuiigung Palace, but most of the buildings disappeared or were relocated during the Period of Japanese Occupation when Gyeongseong Middle School, a Japanese school, was built on the site of the palace.

6 JONGMYO SHRINE 종묘

This shrine is where ancestral rites are held for the spirit tablets of the kings and queens of the Joseon dynasty. It was listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site in 1995. The Jongmyo Jerye, held every May, is the oldest ritual in the world that has been held since 1464, and was selected as a UNESCO masterpiece of oral tradition and intangible heritage in 2001.

Partial viewing is restricted due to power outage repair work. (~second half of 2024, Tuesday (Closed on the following day if Tuesday is a national holiday). 🎫 1,000 won for Koreans aged 25 to 64, free for those aged 24 and under and over 65, 1,000 won for foreigners aged 19 to 64, free for those aged 18 and under and over 65. 📞 82-2-765-0195 @ jm.cha.go.kr (refer to the website for foreign language guided tour hours)

From the five major palaces of Joseon with 500 years of history of the dynasty, to the shrines that serve the spirit tablets of the Joseon kings and queens. Each of the royal institutions has its own unique style and beauty.

TIP. HANBOK EXPERIENCE

Admission is free if you visit the palace wearing a hanbok, a colorful traditional Korean outfit! There are many hanbok rental shops near the palace, so it is recommended that you wear a hanbok and travel to the Joseon Dynasty era.

HIKING

through Nature

Surrounded by numerous mountains and forests, Seoul has many great places where people can take a leisurely stroll. From Hanyangdoseong trail, which runs along the fortress wall, to Seoul Dulle-gil, which wraps around Seoul. Let's all enjoy the beautiful scenery of Seoul while breathing in the fresh air.

Difficulty Beginner ●○○ Intermediate ●●○ Advanced ●●●

1 BUKAKSAN MOUNTAIN 북악산

Towering north of Gyeongbokgung Palace, this mountain was the last mountain in Seoul that was made available to the general public for security reasons. As it is a military reservation, it is completely off-limits after sunset, so be sure to check the opening hours for a visit.

Mar.-Apr., Sep.-Oct 07:00-18:00 (last entry no later than 16:00)

May.-Aug. 07:00-19:00 (last entry no later than 17:00)

Nov.-Feb. 09:00-17:00 (last entry no later than 15:00)

Closed on Tuesdays only for mountain hiking trail through the Chunchumun Gate

Height 342m Difficulty ●●○

2 INWANGSAN MOUNTAIN 인왕산

One of the guardian mountains in Seoul, this peak is entirely made of granite. There are many rocks with strange shapes such as Train Rock, Skirt Rock, and Hat Rock. Because of the beautiful scenery, there are many landscape paintings with Mt. Inwang as the background, and representative examples include Jeong Seon's Inwangjesaekdo and Kang Hui-eon's Inwangsando. It is also known as a beautiful night view spot.

Height 338.2m Difficulty ●○○

3 ANSAN MOUNTAIN 안산

This mountain is relatively low. Its main route is the one east of Ansan, which goes through Seodaemun Independence Park where Seodaemun Prison is located. Here, visitors can enjoy beautiful scenery in every season. By climbing to the top, visitors can overlook the Inwangsang Mountain, Bukhansang Mountain, and the Hangang River surrounding Seoul in a sweeping view.

Height 295.5m Difficulty ●○○

4 EUNGBONSA MOUNTAIN 응봉산

As a peak towering in Eungbong-dong, this hill has been famous for its beautiful scenery since ancient times. It was also called Maebonsang because the kings of the Joseon Dynasty enjoyed hunting by releasing falcons here. The night view of Seoul from the top of the octagonal pavilion is fabulous.

Height 81m Difficulty ●○○

HANYANG DOSEONG TRAIL

A history tour where you can appreciate the history and culture of the Seoul Fortress Wall. It is divided into six sections, and visitors can savor the history and culture of each era along the Seoul Fortress Wall surrounded by Namsan Mt., Inwangsang Mt., Bukaksang Mt., and Naksan Mt.

Difficulty ●●○○

Duration 8hrs 10mins

Departure Exit 6 of Line 3, Suin-Bundang Line Suseo Station

5 GWANAKSAN-HOAMSAN ROUTE

관악·호암산 코스

This course arrives at Suseo Station via Gwanaksan Mountain and the Samseongsan Mountain. For a walking trail along the Dulle-gil of the Gwanaksan Mountain, the natural scenery is excellent. Since historical and cultural relics are scattered throughout, there is a variety of things to see and enjoy.

Distance 13km

Difficulty ●●○○

Duration 6hrs

Departure Exit 4 of Line 2, 4 Sadang Station

7 BONGSAN-AENGBONGSAN ROUTE

봉산·앵봉산 코스

This course passes Noeul Park, Haneul Park, and World Cup Stadium, so many places that are difficult to pass are well equipped with pedestrian facilities. It is a course with a lot of historical heritage and many things to see.

Distance 16.8km

Difficulty ●●○○

Duration 6hrs 25mins

Departure Exit 4 of Line 9 Gayang Station

6 ANYANGCHEON-HANGANG ROUTE

안양천·한강 코스

There are many foods that you must try when you're in Seoul. From crispy fried chicken to spicy kimchi stew, here are some foods that people of all ages love.

So Bulgogi

A traditional home-made dish of beef marinated in gravy with spices and vegetables. It is sweet and tender.

Fried Chicken

The fried chicken is crispy on the outside and soft on the inside. Different brands sell fried chicken in different flavors. In particular, Chimaek' that combines chicken with draft beer is the best.

Kimchi-ssigae (Kimchi Stew)

A stew made with kimchi, the representative fermented food of Korea. Depending on the ingredients you put in, such as pork and tofu, you can enjoy various tastes.

Naengmyeon

A traditional dish topped with boiled noodles and garnish in a cold broth. The noodles are chewy and the taste of the cold broth is excellent.

Doenjang-ssigae (Soybean Paste Stew)

A stew made by boiling doenjang (soy bean paste) mixed with water and various ingredients. It tastes savory.

Sam-gyeopsalgui

Samgyeopsal, grilled on an open fire and served with vegetables, is a tender, oily pork cut with a savory flavor.

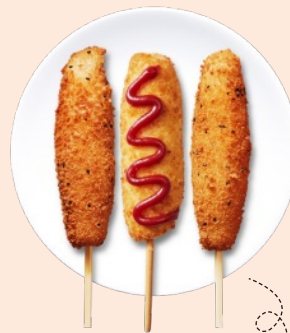

Budae-ssigae

A representative fusion Korean dish made with Western-style ingredients such as sausages cooked Korean style

Snacks to Enjoy on a Small Budget

Seoul smells delicious in every alley. From spicy Tteok-bokki to Bungeo-ppang as a signature winter snack, let's check out foods you can enjoy on a small budget on the streets of Seoul.

Hot Dog (Corn Dog)

A snack served with long sausages coated in flour dough and breadcrumbs, deep-fried, and then sprinkled with sugar and ketchup. There are also hot dogs with cheese and potatoes.

Bungeo-ppang (Fish-shaped Pastry)

Bread made with red bean paste in wheat flour dough. It is a typical winter street snack. Not only bungeo-ppang with red beans but one with cream puffs and cheese is also available.

Hotteok (Sugar-filled Korean Pancake)

A dish made of wheat flour and glutinous rice, baked in a round shape with brown sugar inside. Crispy on the outside and sweet on the inside.

Gyeran ppang (Egg Bun)

Egg bread with a whole egg inside. It is a street snack that is loved for its soft, moist texture and savory taste.

Gimbap

A dish made by placing rice on seaweed and adding various ingredients to it. Depending on the ingredients, such as tuna and pork cutlet, you can enjoy a variety of flavors.

Fries

Deep-fried food such as seaweed rolls, squid, and vegetables. Dip it in Tteok-bokki sauce for a fabulous bite.

Patbingsu (Shaved Ice with Sweetened Red Beans and Other Toppings)

A popular summertime snack. Grind ice and put boiled red beans, condensed milk, fruit, etc. on top of it.

Tteok-bokki (Steir-fried Rice Cake)

A snack made by adding a spicy sauce to rice cakes. If you like a chewy and sticky texture, we recommend rice cake, and if you like a chewy texture only, we recommend wheat cake.

+ SINDANG-DONG TTEOK-BOKKI TOWN

A street where you can taste instant tteok-bokki, which is cooked in a pan with tteok-bokki, ramen noodles, and eomuk (fish cake)
 77, Cheonggu-ro, Jung-gu, Seoul

Vari-Colored Food Alleys

If you want seafood, go to Noryangjin Fish Market, and if you want to eat pork feet and a glass of soju, visit Jangchung-dong Jokbal Alley. Seoul is home to very many time-honored food alleys.

GWANGJANG MARKET JEON ALLEY

광장시장 전골목

A traditional market with over 100 years of history located in the middle of Jongno. Visitors can try various delicacies such as fried jeon, Bindaetteok, Hotteok, addictive Gimbap, and Kalguksu in the alley.

📍 Jongno 4-ga, Jongno-gu, Seoul
(Near Exit 7, 8 of Line 1 Jongno 5-ga Station)

DONGDAEMUN DAKHANMARI ALLEY

(WHOLE CHICKEN ALLEY) 동대문 닭한마리골목

By adding Kalguksu noodles to a dish that has a whole chicken boiled in the broth, you can make a hearty meal. Stores have different sauces and broths for dipping the chicken, so you may want to find a restaurant that suits your taste.

📍 37-7, Jongno 5-ga, Jongno-gu, Seoul
(Near Exit 9 of Line 1, 4 Dongdaemun Station)

DONGDAEMUN GRILLED FISH ALLEY

동대문 생선구이골목

A street packed with grilled fish restaurants. Fish such as cutlassfish, mackerel, Spanish mackerel, and Pacific saury are grilled over briquettes and served. In addition to fish, there are several side dishes that come with it. If you eat moist grilled fish and side dishes on top of white rice, no delicacy can quite compare to it.

📍 37-7, Jongno 5-ga, Jongno-gu, Seoul
(Near Exit 9 of Line 1, 4 Dongdaemun Station)

OJANG-DONG HAMHEUNG NAENGYEON ALLEY

오장동 함흥냉면거리

A street where you can taste Hamheung naengmyeon topped with spicy raw fish mix on chewy noodles made from sweet potatoes. It started when the displaced people who fled to South Korea after the Korean War settled around Ojang-dong and made Hamheung naengmyeon.

📍 Ojang-dong, Jung-gu, Seoul (Near Exit 6 of Line 2, 4, 5 Dongdaemun History & Culture Park Station)

NAMDAEMUN MARKET KALGUKSU & GALCHI ALLEY

남대문시장 칼국수골목 & 갈치골목

These places are always crowded with people lined up to taste the delicacies. Naengmyeon noodles and cooked barley rice served with Kalguksu noodles are must-try dishes. Don't forget to have cutlass fish braised with special sauce that you can try only in Namdaemun Market.

📍 42-1, Namdaemunsijang 4-gil, Jung-gu, Seoul
(Near Exit 5 of Line 4 Hoehyeon Station)

EULJIRO GOLBAENGI STREET

을지로 골뱅이골목

From the late 1960s, restaurants selling golbaengi (whelk) began to appear one after another, forming a food alley. Golbaengi seasoned with spicy green onion makes the perfect side dish with alcohol.

📍 344-22, Eulji-ro 3-ga, Jung-gu, Seoul (Near Exit 11 of Line 2, 3 Euljiro 3-ga Station)

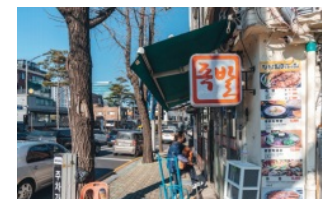

JANGCHUNG-DONG JOKBAL ALLEY

장충동 족발골목

It is where Jokbal restaurants are gathered between the main street and the narrow alleys. Here, visitors can eat soft and chewy pork feet in generous amounts and at reasonable prices.

📍 Jangchung-dong Jokbal Street: 174 Jangchungdan-ro, Jung-gu, Seoul (near Exit 3 of Dongguk University Station, Line 3)

NORYANGJIN FISHERIES WHOLESALE MARKET

노량진수산물도매시장

The largest seafood wholesale market in Seoul. It deals with fresh seafood supplied from all over the country, and an auction for merchants is held at dawn. In some stores, you can try a variety of seafood dishes.

📍 674, Nodeul-ro, Dongjak-gu, Seoul
(Near Exit 9 of Line 1, 9 Noryangjin Station)

SILLIM-DONG SUNDAE TOWN

신림동 순대타운

In the Sundae Town building, you can try sundae, the Korean-style sausage which stuffs various ingredients such as cellophane noodles into the intestines of cattle or pigs. They sell a variety of dishes using sundae, from spicy seasoned stir-fried sundae to sundae gopchang stir-fry and Baeksundae stir-fry, a specialty of Sundae Town.

📍 14, Sillim-ro 59-gil, Gwanak-gu, Seoul
(Near Exit 3 of Line 2, Sillim LRT Line Sillim Station)

Vegan for Healthy Meals

As vegetarians are increasing for various reasons, there are more and more restaurants in Seoul that satisfy both taste and health at the same time. There are many traditional Korean foods suitable for vegetarians, so please try them.

Dotorimuk Muchim (Seasoned Acorn Jelly Salad)

A dish made with acorn curd and various vegetables such as carrot and sesame leaf, marinated in soy sauce. Due to the sauce, it is sweet and the unique savory taste of acorn curd envelops the palate.

Buddhist Temple Cuisine

You can taste the monks' food with the taste of nature with simple ingredients at temple restaurants. Most of the dishes are simple and refreshing.

Deulkkae Kalguksu (Noodle Soup with Perilla Seed)

Deulkkae Kalguksu is a dish made by adding Kalguksu to perilla water that has been prepared by adding water to finely ground perilla seeds and filtered through a sieve.

Hobak-juk (Pumpkin Porridge) & Patjuk (Red Bean Porridge)

A pumpkin porridge made by boiling sweet pumpkin or old pumpkin and a red bean porridge made by boiling red beans and adding rice to the filtered red bean water. Both dishes are sweet and soft, so people of all ages can enjoy them.

Pajeon (Green Onion Pancake)

A flattened food made by mixing wheat flour dough with green onions and carrots. It is perfect to have with traditional liquor.

Yachae Bibimbap (Vegetable Bibimbap)

It is a major Korean food enjoyed by mixing rice and various vegetables. You can add vegetables of your choice according to your taste.

It Tastes Better if You Know More about It! Beverages

A glass of wine enjoyed with delicious food removes the fatigue of travel. From the currently popular Korean alcohols of soju and makgeolli to traditional drinks, we introduce beverages that are good to drink with food or on their own.

Sujeonggwa (Cinnamon Punch)

A traditional Korean drink prepared by boiling cinnamon and ginger in water and adding sugar or honey to it. The spiciness of cinnamon and ginger and the sweetness of sugar go well together.

Makgeolli (Rice Wine)

A unique Korean alcoholic beverage made by steaming glutinous rice, non-glutinous rice, barley, and wheat flour and mixing it with nuruk yeast and water for fermentation. Different types of makgeolli have different tastes, but in general, makgeolli has a sour and savory taste.

Yuja-cha (Citrus Tea)

A Korean tea made from thinly sliced citron pickled in sugar and brewed in boiling water. It has a sweet and sour taste.

Soju

As an alcoholic beverage distilled by fermenting grain, it is the most popular drink at bars. Most of the soju brands come in a green bottle and have a strong alcohol flavor. Sweet fruit soju is also available for those who can't drink alcohol.

Sikkhye (Sweet Rice Punch)

A traditional Korean drink with floating grains of rice. It has a sweet taste as a cold drink that has rice fermented in malt.

Maekju (Beer)

You would be amiss if you did not have beer with your fried chicken. Beer in a cool glass registers a tangy, cool, and savory taste.

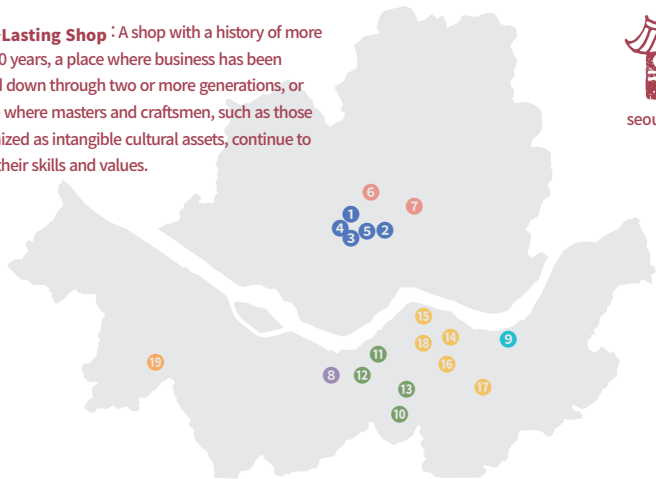

Meet the Old Seoul in Long-Lasting Shops

In Seoul, there are many shops that carry on their history and tradition over a long time. We hope you enjoy visiting these shops and discovering the old Seoul.

Long-Lasting Shop : A shop with a history of more than 30 years, a place where business has been passed down through two or more generations, or a store where masters and craftsmen, such as those recognized as intangible cultural assets, continue to share their skills and values.

Looking for Treasures to Remember Seoul by

From cosmetics of Korea, which have emerged as a beauty powerhouse, to instant food that can be enjoyed with ease. Here are some souvenirs that will help you remember your trip and make good gifts.

Cosmetics

Korean cosmetics are loved by people all over the world for their excellent quality and reasonable price, and are grouped under the epithet of 'K-beauty'. Considering the price, inexpensive mask packs, lip balms, etc. are also good gifts.

Stationery & Socks

A variety of stationery items such as colorful highlighters, colored pencils, character pens, and notebooks are indispensable souvenirs. High-quality socks with cute designs are also popular.

Traditional Handicrafts

Korean traditional crafts, including accessories such as hanbok and hair ornaments, fans, and embroidered lucky bags, are popular souvenirs for both men and women of all ages.

Hallyu Products

If you are interested in K-pop or K-drama, it would be good to buy Hallyu products as mementoes. They sell products for Hallyu fans in Myeong-dong, Dongdaemun, Apgujeong, and COEX.

Food

Laver, ramen, processed red ginseng products, and instant food that can be eaten just by adding hot water are popular souvenirs. They can be bought through quick visits to nearby convenience stores or supermarkets.

Traditional Liquor

Soju and Makgeolli, the most popular Korean liquors, are popular because they are cheap and complement Korean food very well. Traditional liquor, which comes in paper packages and cans rather than bottles, is a must-buy.

Seoul's Official Travel App VISITSEOUL

You can check all of Seoul's attractions, shopping, restaurants, recommended tourist routes, events, tourist information, tour guide/interpreter phone service, tour guides, maps, etc. through the app.

How to Get the App
Search and download VISITSEOUL from major app stores. The app supports Korean, English, Japanese, and both simplified and traditional Chinese.

ROAMING & WI-FI

Internet access is available throughout Seoul where its speed and accessibility are the best in the world. Wireless Internet is available at airports, hotels, tourist information centers, public facilities, including subways and train stations, and even many restaurants and cafes. Visitors can access the Internet by logging in at hotspots through major carriers such as KT, SK, and LG or paying fees with a credit card. Prepaid SIM cards can be purchased at most convenience stores and be selected according to the length of stay. Those who need continued access to the Internet may rent a smartphone or portable router at Incheon International Airport or Gimpo International Airport to create a hotspot. After making a reservation online, it can be picked up at a mobile phone rental shop of carriers or can be rented at major tourist attractions such as Seoul Station, Insa-dong, and Myeong-dong.

Mobile phone rental service: Mobile phone rental service is available for foreign tourists

(※ Please check the website of each service provider for details and how to make a reservation.)
